

SCHOOL BOARD SESSION

The Alpine School Board met in regular session Tuesday, March 2nd. A committee of school patrons from Manila was present and asked that the board hurry along the work of placing drinking water in the Manila schools.

A committee from Alpine met with the board in reference to improvements in the Alpine schools. The board was favorable to the recommendations of the committee.

The same teachers' contract used last year was recommended by the superintendent and was accepted by the board, with one correction, providing that all teachers must attend the U. E. A.

A salary schedule was recommended by the superintendent and was accepted by the board. It will be discussed by the teachers of the district at a meeting they will hold in the near future. They will be asked to accept it, but it is not yet known what their decisions will be. The board will meet again Tuesday, March 16th.

Amusement Notes

To see "Big Bill" Hart ride, shoot and rope steers in a Western photo-play, is a delight. There are few cow punchers in the West who have Wm. S. Hart's skill in these accomplishments and when they are seen in a motion picture play, the real thing is reproduced. In his new picture, "Breed of Men" which will be shown at the Realart theatre Saturday, Mr. Hart discloses his ability to ride, shoot and rope as few men are able to do.

"The Poor Rich Man," is the first production in which the popular co-stars, Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne will be seen on the screen since their marriage. This play, which will be shown at the Realart theatre on Monday is a five act romance of an up-to-date young couple.

Tuesday night will be shown "The Two-Souled Woman" at the Realart. It's interesting.

If you want to find what a dub is really like, see "The Dub," the picture in which Wallace Reid will appear at the Realart theatre next Wednesday. Oddly enough, in the end, the star proves that he isn't a dub after all and the story rounds out into a decidedly interesting series of complications with a surprising finish.

Gerardine Farrar's second Goldwyn picture, "The Hell Cat," which comes to the Realart theatre, Thursday and Friday is not alone a powerful story. It provides the star with a colorful, highly dramatic role as well.

She is Pancha O'Brien, half-Spanish and half-Irish, with all the contradictions this mixture implies. Her father is a Wyoming sheep raiser and Pancha is loved by Jack Webb, the sheriff. Jim Dike a well-to-do cattleman, covets the girl, but she will have none of him. When he sees Pancha favoring the sheriff he determines to conquer her. To show that he has the upper hand, Dike, a squaw-man, orders his Mexicans to cut the throats of O'Brien's sheep. The animals are slain, but Pancha surprises the men before they can escape.

Dike announces to Pancha that he has come to take her away. She puts up a furious fight, scratching, biting and kicking and living up to her sobriquet of "The Hell Cat." But Dike overpowers her, binds her and carries her away on his horse. Then his men set fire to the ranch.

Did Not Authorize Statement

U. S. Attorney General Did Not Authorize Statement Issued By Inter-Mountain Beet Growers In Regard to Withholding of Contracts Until Investigation Had Been Made.

TELEGRAM EXPLAIN MATTER

American Fork citizens, no doubt, observed in the Deseret News a statement made by Mr. Patterson and his associates that the Attorney General at Washington had advised the farmers not to sign contracts with the sugar companies until an investigation had been conducted. I immediately sent the telegram below to Washington and received the reply printed here, says Mr. Nibley.

Attorney General out of town am authorized by Assistant Attorney General who was present at conference between Attorney General and Growers representatives to say that Attorney General Authorized no statement whatever. There being no statute authorizing them to act they are still determined not to interfere in the fixing of price of beets per ton as between the manufacturer and the grower.
